Message from School Council

As 2022 comes to a close, School Council has been busy showing appreciation to all teachers and staff at CCHS. A catered Taco Bar and dessert was offered in the Staff Room on Friday Dec 16th. Many thanks to Chris Wyman at TSD catering for the delicious assortment. We welcome all to join Tuesday Dec 20th, 7pm in the Library for our monthly meeting. Deb Sellers will be sharing highlights of what's happening in the school kitchen. Council will be reflecting on positive happenings in our school as well as setting wishes, goals and actions for the year ahead. Come be a part of the conversation. We have a short School Council Meeting @ 7pm December 20 - please come join us. (Read more here)

Grade 9 Career Explorations Program -host employers needed

The Canadian Rockies Public Schools (CRPS) believes that employers can enhance student learning by creating opportunities for students to experience the real world of work. With more career knowledge, students can increase their motivation for learning, make better educational choices, and smooth the transition to post-secondary options after high school. In 2018, 2019 and 2020, the CRPS established partnerships with businesses, governments, non-profit organisations, and industries in the Bow Valley to provide short-term “Career Exploration” placements for our Grade 9 students. This program is voluntary for our Grade 9 students and will take place between January 23rd and 27th 2023. Please contact Hans Holthuis, assistant principal at CCHS, hans.holthuis@crps.ca if you could consider hosting one of our students.

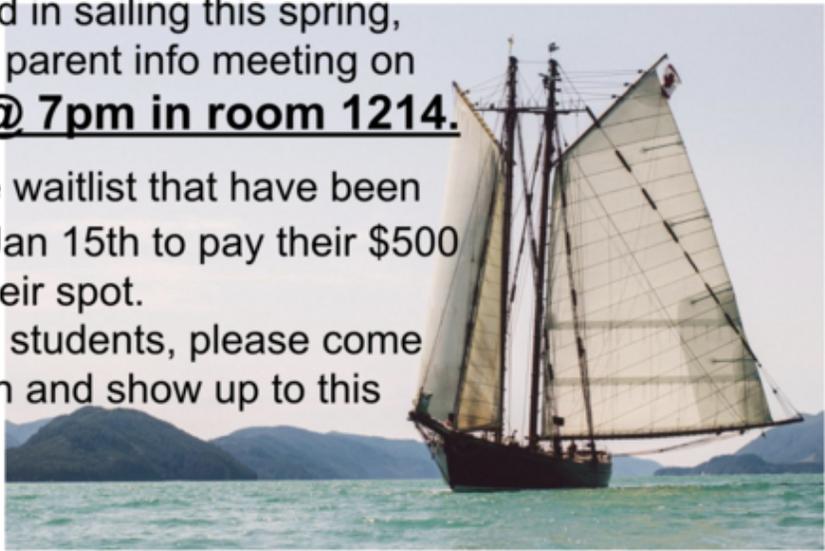

SALTS Trip MARCH 26th - 31st

*If you are interested in sailing this spring, there is a student & parent info meeting on Wed, Dec 21st @ 7pm in room 1214.

* All students on the waitlist that have been emailed have until Jan 15th to pay their $500 deposit to secure their spot.

*All other interested students, please come see Mrs. MacKinnon and show up to this meeting!

Ahoy Mate!

Flu Season and COVID reminders

Please remain at home if you are displaying flu or COVID-19 symptoms and follow the current recommendations for staying away from work or school if displaying symptoms. We request that parents do not send their child to school if they feel ill. Please let us know they are absent due to an illness so we can keep track of any potential outbreaks which are considered 10% or more of the student population. Read this letter dated November 2023 from the Interim Chief and Senior Medical Officers of Health in relation to the rise in influenza cases seen in school recently. If your child tests positive for COVID-19 please read the advice for isolation:

The growing use of technology in modern agriculture is mind-blowing! Do you want to see if you may have a future career in this industry for you?

Precision Agriculture Techgronomy Diploma

ATE 1907 / TERM: WINTER 2023

Electronics & Control Systems in Precision Agriculture

Feb 27 - May 18, 2023 | Online, Asynchronous | 16 Credits (10 required)

During this course you will learn in detail about low hardware, software, and electronic components and their programming in agricultural systems. From GPS/GNSS to precision agriculture controllers, and the systems design, programming, and troubleshooting that accompanies them, you will develop detailed technical understanding and skills that can be applied to real-life applications and opportunities in precision agriculture. Taking this course will change the way you think about technology. Every time you see a tractor driving straight up and cover a field, a sprayer turning on or off boom sections, or a combine unloading grain, you will begin to think "How does that work?" or even better "I know how that works!"

EARN COLLEGE CREDITS IN HIGH SCHOOL

The Olds College Precision Agriculture Techgronomy Diploma prepares graduates for entry into careers that bridge the gaps between agronomy, agriculture machinery management, and data science caused by the rapid evolution of high-speed technology.

Land & Water Resources Diploma

EARN COLLEGE CREDITS IN HIGH SCHOOL

Are you interested in a future career related to land sustainability and restoration?

This course provides an introduction to ecological principles at the species, population, community and ecosystem levels. Specific application of ecology to sustainability and the management of forest and grassland ecosystems are studied.

EVS 1210 / TERM: WINTER 2023
APPLIED ECOLOGY

Feb 27 - May 18, 2023 | Online, Asynchronous

In EVS 1210, students will learn to look at the natural world around you with new eyes. Ecology can be studied at a number of different levels: species (i.e. species' adaptations have allowed them to survive in specific habitats), populations (i.e. predator/prey relationships or other types of population interactions), communities (i.e. how plant and animal communities change over time), and ecosystems (i.e. how nutrients are recycled in a forest ecosystem). Specific application of ecology to sustainability and the management of forest and grassland ecosystems are studied. In addition, students will apply some of these principles to real problems such as global climate change, acidification of the oceans, loss of biodiversity in the world. Students in the class will look at problems and issues by reading short articles, watching videos about specific topics and by researching specific issues.

AIT 1140 / TERM: WINTER 2023 Veterinary Practice: The Team Connection

Feb 27 - May 18, 2023 | Asynchronous
Thinking of becoming a veterinarian or interested in working with animals as part of your career?
